

Cuarto y Mitá

We are three friends- Encarna Lozano, Pepi Relinque and Ángela Gallego- joined by a common hobby: cooking and gastronomy. This blog is the result of our activity and our desire to know and experience what we like so much. We cook, we go out to search new bars and restaurants, we participate in routes, contests and gastronomic events, we give conferences, we try new products, we discover our villages and study their traditions and customs ... in short, we do not want to leave anything of this world that we are passionate about.
